Applying what you have learnt

1 Circle the traffic light that indicates that cars can move forward.
You probably have seen these traffic signs many times. Do you know what they mean? Write it below them (You can also look for information on the Internet). Then compare your answers with your classmates.
1 Read and listen to the following list of professions in a town or city. Circle in red the jobs that are done by the Town Council’s employees.

- Public gardeners
- Waiters/waitresses
- Street cleaners
- Bakers
- Firefighters
- Taxi drivers
- Municipal polices
2 Look at these two pictures.

Which of these two vehicles belongs to the Town Council, and which one doesn’t? Write Private vehicle or Municipal vehicle under the corresponding picture. Compare your answers with your classmates.

Looking for information

1. Look for information about your local Town Council and answer the following questions:

What’s the Mayor’s name?

What is the Town Hall’s address?

What is the name of the person who represents the Town Council in your School Council?
2 Internet research.

Visit on the Internet your local Town Council’s website. Ask your teacher or parents to show you the most interesting sections on this website.

3 Work in groups.

With the help of your teacher, request to interview the Town Council’s representative in your school. In groups of four students, prepare five questions to ask him / her. Then tell the rest of your classmates what he / she said in the interview.
Looking for information

1. Look for information about the town / city where you live. Then compare your answers with your classmates.

a) How many inhabitants has it got?

b) What are its most important monuments?

c) Has it got a library? What’s its address?

d) Has it got any parks? What are their names?
2 Look for information in the library.

You can find some information about your town / city by visiting your school library or any other local library.

3 Look for information on a map.

Ask an adult to help you and look for your town / city on a map of Spain. Look for three other towns / cities near where you live.

4 Create a leaflet about a monument.

Visit with your parents a monument in your town / city and create a leaflet about it with a photograph or a drawing and a short explanation. Then present it to your classmates in class.
Complete the following sentences. You can also look for the information on the Internet. Compare your answers with your classmates.

Towns with very few inhabitants are called

__________________________

Towns with a big number of inhabitants are called

__________________________

and are divided into areas called

__________________________
2 Draw a city.

Use a poster-sized piece of card to draw a city with four neighbourhoods, each one with their houses painted in a different colour. Show the poster to your classmates.

3 Ask some adults.

Ask an adult (your parents, grandparents…) about the name of a neighbourhood in your town / city, and ask them to tell you things about it. Summarise the information in your notebook. Then explain it to your classmates.

4 Are you from a different town / city?

Explain to your classmates what the town / city where you lived before is like.
Applying what you have learnt

1. Explain with your own words what a fine is.

2. Mark with an X the actions that can be penalised with a fine.

   - Wearing a disguise.
   - Skipping a red traffic light.
   - Decorating your car with white ribbon.
   - Not returning a book to the library.
3 Learn other words.

Work in pairs to discuss what a police station is. Then write it here:

4 Learn new expressions.

In the last chapter of the book a policeman says “Wait a minute!” What does this expression mean? Talk about it with your classmates, letting everyone give their opinions.

The dwarves in the story never say their names. Why do you think that is? Read and listen to the following sentences to choose the right answer. Underline the answer in red.

a) Because they do bad things and they don’t want to say their names.

b) Because they want to keep their good actions secret.

c) Because these dwarves haven’t got a real name.

d) Because they don’t like their names and they don’t want anyone to know them.
Finding out about our world

The dwarves in the story spend their time helping abandoned children in a selfless way.

Ask your teacher or parents to tell you the name of some organizations (NGOs) that selflessly help society. Write down their names and what they do.

Understanding what you have read

Listen to the audio CD and answer the following questions. You can also look for the answers in the written text if you prefer. Then explain them to your classmates.

1. In the book, Snow White’s stepmother goes to town dressed as an old lady. Why does she get dressed that way?

2. Why does the stepmother give Snow White an apple?

3. The stepmother hates Snow White. Why?
   - Because Snow White laughs at her.
   - Because Snow White is more beautiful than her.
   - Because Snow White broke her magic computer.
4 Think about the story.
In the book, the policeman gives the stepmother a fine. What was she doing to be fined?

5 Understand our world.
In many towns and cities, it is prohibited to sell things on the street. Why do you think it is prohibited? Get into groups of four students to talk about it. Write your conclusions here.
